

Patient Identification – It Takes Two

Patient identification bracelets allow us to identify the correct patient for the correct care

How you can help:

- Make sure your child is wearing their patient identification bracelet at all times.
- If your child does not have an identification bracelet, let us know right away.
- We will confirm your child's identity by asking you at least two things about them, including: their first and last name, date of birth, or health card number.
- We will check your child's identification bracelet before we give a test, treatment or medication. Let us know if this does not happen.
